

International Flair

Gray and black granite is used throughout the house, including the basement flooring. The crew found original blueprints from a 1930s remodel behind the walls. To highlight the history of the house, architect Bjorn Skaptason had a local specialty firm etch the plans into the glass wall by the staircase (right). The team expanded the basement to make room for a wine storage and tasting area (lower right).

 By Nina Patel